Stop step-motherly treatment with contractors, clear pending dues: Tony JAMMU, SEPT. 24: Taranjit Singh Tony on Friday condemned the J&K Government for meting out step-motherly treatment to contractors' fraternity in the Union Territory and not paying them a dime for the works they have accomplished under the head of languishing projects.

Addressing media per sons here today, the DDC member said that the contractors are facing endless hardships due to non-payments of works executed under Languishing Projects. He said that these projects were allotted through e-tendering after completing all formalities. expressed anguish over the fact that government trumpeted with much fanfare over schemes designed to complete languishing projects with announcements segregating exchequer for the same but when the time for payment to contractors came the helmsmen had denied to clear the pending dues. Tony demanded a probe into the matter asking how the government can deny payment after taking services of the contractors. "This seems to be a big scam as the concerned officials are not releasing the payments on the pretext that the aforesaid Schemes/ Heads under which the works were executed have been closed", he said and urged the LG to intervene in the matter to deliver justice to contractors of all categories starting from Class A to all others. The DDC member said that recently in Samba, the development works worth crores of rupees were allotted to the contractors from outside the J&K under cleared.

Tony said that earlier projects were bifurcated like drilling, mechanical, electrical, pipe laying and civil works and different categories of contractors used to execute these works generating employment at a wider scale but under latest composite tender system only one party gets the opportunity to execute all works thus making a large section of contractors jobless which should not be the case. He said that some time back similar system was introduced but the then Chief Secretary rescinded the same after the contractors approached him but this time the government seems to be adamant in taking this anti-contractor stand.

Tony said that the situation currently in the Union Territory is testimony to the fact that government is hellbent to end the contractors of lower class especially in Jammu Province as it has no guts to do the same in Valley or Ladakh.

He said that government should stop doing experiments with the hapless contractors whish are already facing lots of problems including joblessness and financial crunch.

He said that without any should clear the pending dues of contractors as no alibi is justifiable after the contractors have completed their work with extreme satisfaction of the concerned

Tony demanded that all the pending payments of contractors should be cleared without any further delay and the interest of their pending should also be

BJP demeaned, diminished Jammu: Harsh Dev

Mission can be achieved

"Despite the tall promises made by the BJP to declare holding for 23rd September as a tribute to the legendary ruler, Maharaja Hari Singh, the nationalist people were a demoralized lot even after seven years of saffron rule in the country. The loud mouthed, over weight leaders of BJP had given repeated assurances to the people during Parliament as well as Assembly Elections in 2014 and thereafter as well that the most coveted demand of holiday on the birthday of the legendary dogra ruler would be conceded immediately after their ascendance

It was however shocking to note the U-turns taken by the BJP regime over the issue like various other election time promises made with people of Jammu region which too evaporated into the thin air after their climbing the ladder of power". This was stated by Mr. Harsh Dev Singh Chairman-JKNPP and former Minister while speaking to media persons today.

Pointing towards the continued neglect and deprivation of Jammu region even post Art 370 abrogation, Mr. Singh regretted that the dogra land continued to be divested of its due share in Jobs, development, funds allocation etc. And while Ladakh and Kashmir continued to receive the focussed attention of the central govt, the incarcerated land of dogras has been made to content with whatsoever little falls in its kitty. The Ladakhis have been assured of benefits of sixth schedule, protection of Jobs and lands, smart cities for both Leh and Kargil, Central University costing Rs. 750 crore, Infrastructure Development Corporation besides talks with LAB and KDA in progress for statehood and Art 371 like provision. The Kashmir region too has received unmitigated attention of the New Delhi rulers. If any region of the erstwhile state has suffered even after the reorganization process, it is Jammu region which continues to be taken for granted by the BJP. Describing the ban on purchase of land by Mahajans, Khatris and Sikhs as unconstitutional,

Mr. Singh said that NPP would restore the land rights of the said communities if voted to power. There was nothing for unemployed youth who were languishing on roads seeking gainful employment. The condition of rural areas in particular was pathetic with people clamouring day in and day out for better civic amenities with the govt having failed to respond to their genuine concerns. Several projects at Thandapani face govt neglect : Ravinder Sharma

TT CORRESPONDENT JAMMU, SEPT. 24: Former MLC and Chief Spokesperson Jammu and Kashmir Pradesh Congress Shri Ravinder Sharma has said that several developmental projects at Thandapani near sunderbani town face government neglect for seven years of BJP rule and asked the people to bring about political change to carry forward the development of the area. Sharma said this during an interactive session with the prominent citizens and party workers of panchayat Thandapani in Sunderbani in which series of pending works facing government neglect highlighted. The session was part of the Jan sampark abhiyan, launched by former MLC to reach out to the people of different panchayats of Sunderbani and Nowshera to take stock of the problems of people. The people complained about the neglect of developmental projects initiated by the Congress government in the Sunderbani area especially in the Panchayat Thandapani. The people were completely fed up with the policies of the BJP government towards each and every section due to large scale unemployment, unprecedented price hike privatisation, failure to fulfill commitments of regularisation of daily wagers, need based workers, asha workers, Anganwadi workers, helpers and other con-tractual and temporary employee etc besides anti farmers and anti youth and sanctioned by the previous government Panchayat like 124-kanals Industrial Estate at Thandapani, Vegetables Mandi, sport's stadium and by -pass high-way besides filtration plant etc have remained neglected and abandoned. The government failed to take up even a single major project in the area initiated by him for the development of the area . Had these projects been completed ,the area would have become a new township of Sunderbani, Sharma said adding that these projects were got sanctioned due to his efforts for the major development but were abandoned by BJP government. The Scheduled Caste Basti of ward number one, in panchayat complained about diversion of funds allocated to Dalits basti under back to village scheme. They submitted a resolution to the LG through Former MLC for in depth enquiry and sought justice. Chief spokesperson described the diversion of funds under RDD as a seri-

It was unanicountry who are already on mously decided to stand in solidarity with Prof. Kamal the verge of collapse, due Chopra President All India Federation of Master to following facts:

o Printing Printers which has rightly Packaging industry is an intermediator industry, stated the facts :-It is a bit early to give any comments on the recent proposals submitted by the GST council, before a proper notification is issued by the Government.But, still I would like to say that on one side printers are happy that the long standing demand for one trade one tax is accepted by the GST council, but on the other side 18 percent GST on printed products can prove to be a big jolt for the already suffering printing and packaging industry.

Previously, there were 3 GST slabs in printing industry 5, 12 and 18 percent on different kind of cent on different kind of products. Printers of the country were facing lot of confusion while calculating GST for different items. Requests were raised at various platforms for simple one GST for all the products of Printing and Packaging industry. With this proposal of the

GST council though there may not be any confusion and anomalies while calcubecause supplies are not made directly to the end users, but to the manufac-turers/dealers who are preparing the products for the end users. Thus, any increase in the GST rate will increase the manufacturing cost of the products. The basic raw material of our industry-Paper is in the slab of 12 percent GST, putting printing and packaging in the slab of 18 virtually mean, payment of 6 percent from the pocket, after claiming the input credit, till the payment is received from the customer. In these days of slow business and delayed payments, sometimes more than 90 days, the additional 6% will be an added burden and difficult for the printer to survive. It may prove to be another death nail, especially for the micro and small printers of the country. When the input tax is 12 percent on our basic to equate the output tax at 12 to avoid such anomalies. As per the available statistics through PrintWeek survey, a close reading reveals that at least 3,000 print businesses across India could go bust by March 2021. The major reasons for this are insufficient cash flow and decreasing the demand of printing due to internet/ digitisation. Printing of stationery, calendars, dairies, and books is dairies, and books is already suffering. Some of the state governments has issued instructions for paperless office. Again due to Covid crises, printing of newspapers and news magazines has also suffered a serious setback. It is evident that increase in GST from 12 to 18 in turn increase the prices of books, magazines etc. Thus, it is expected that the demand of printed products will further decrease in case this increased GST is imposed.

As already reported by the media 27.3% compa-nies were on the verge of closure due to decreasing demands. With about 250,000 printers,India is the world's largest printing industry. Out of these90 percent printers are either Micro or small and this increase will affect their survival now.It is therefore for the survival of the printing industry in India we wish that there may be only one GST slab of 12 percent on all/any kind of converting/printed prod-
